

TITLE : Lollipop

COMPOSER : King Kong Jane

LYRICIST : King Kong Jane

Show me yours I'll show you mine
Let's show the world what we have got Tell me who you wanna be tell me what you wanna see
Don't be shy now don't you hide it
If you got it then just flaunt it
What's the use of having a gift that you wish no one in the world could see

Show me yours I'll show you mine
Let' see if you know where it should belong
Tell me when did you last have a really big brown lollipop
Come on baby come on board now
Take a chance honey take a bow
What's the use of having a life if you don't know the way it should be lived

Show the world what you got don't you be afraid
What's the worst that could happen to you anyway
If you want it then go get it don't you hide away
What really matters is that you can tell the world you tried...So come on show the world what we have got

Show me what you got!
