

Title : Single In Singapore

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

ROSEMARY

I may seem like a happy girl
Not a care in the whole wide world
But stands before you
Someone frail and shy
Who knows why
I appear very confident
But don't ask me where my courage went
Many tell me to get out there and
Just find me a man
It's not easy I feel sleazy
When I stand in corners
And give men the eye

Single in Singapore
You don't know what you're in for
Just pray that someday
You'll find who you're looking for

Men say to me time and again
Let's make love and then let's stay friends
Every man I meet just wants one thing
And still no ring
I may seem self-adjusted, strong
Self-assured? Ivy, you are wrong
I'm a nervous wreck
And you know why
Cos I need a guy
Comes to fellows I turn yellow
I go pale when any male Goes walking by!

Single in Singapore
You don't know what you're in for
Just pray that someday
You'll find who you're looking for
You'll find who you're looking for...