

Title : And Justice For Some

Composer : Kitsch N' Sync

Lyricist : Kitsch N' Sync

don't they do what they oughtta say you never miss the water till the well rums dry and who do you miss the most ain't it almost always those you cant pacify (though you try) I don't see it matters once the calm is shattered the magnitude surely not the weight of the crime but the attitude that's the law my son it'll see you come to no harm so put your warhead to rest there's one law for all one law for the rest and justice for some maybe its the nature you know it when they hate 'cha and the consequence take a vow of silence pay yer dues in checks of violence
